What is Yaldanight?

Iranians around the world celebrate Yalda, which is one of the most ancient Persian festivals.

On Yalda festival, Iranians celebrate the arrival of winter, the renewal of the sun and the victory of light over darkness.

Considered the longest night of the year, Yalda eve is the night when ancient Iranians celebrated the birth of Mithra, the angle of light.

Yalda means birth. Yalda night is the longest and darkest night of the year or winter solstice. Yalda is on 20 to 21 Desembr.

Ancient Persians believed that evil forces were dominant on the longest night of the year and that the next day belonged to the lord of wisdom.
